Commonly seen shopping scam sales talk

Although the methods used to cheat people out of their money continue to evolve, much of the scam sales talk remains the same. For example, exciting sales discounts or telling shoppers to take action now or miss out on a once in a lifetime offer are ways of encouraging consumers to ignore suspicious signs that can include:

Limited time periods

Free gifts

Exclusive discounts

Congratulations you have won an award

If you see any of these key words or phrases in a text message or email take time to carefully identify and verify the information, to make sure you do not fall victim to the illegal activities of scam gangs.
